

Central Coast Home & Garden Expo 2010

Saturday & Sunday • March 27-28

The Central Coast Home & Garden Expo 2010 is a broad-based consumer show focusing on sustainable living, home improvement, interior design, gardening, and landscaping. It is an excellent opportunity for businesses that provide home improvement, interior design, gardening, landscaping, kitchenware, household textiles, environmentally friendly, and cutting-edge alternative living concepts and related products and services to showcase their work. The Expo is held in the beautiful Cocoanut Grove overlooking the Monterey Bay.

Be a part of the Central Coast Home & Garden Expo 2010:

- ❖ We plan a comprehensive media and marketing campaign with advertising and promotion valued at over $45,000 to reach consumers in the Santa Cruz, Monterey, and Salinas markets.
- ❖ The Central Coast Home & Garden Expo was attended by nearly 3,000 people last year.
- ❖ The expo provides an excellent opportunity to profile your company, reach new customers, extend your business, promote your brand, and showcase any new products or services you might have.
- ❖ There will be a full complement of innovative presentations and demonstrations on the Cooking Stage, Sustainable Living Stage, and the Gardening/Landscaping Stage.

If marketing to active consumers interested in sustainable living, home improvement, gardening, interior design, kitchen & culinary concepts, and related topics is important to your company's sales and growth, the Central Coast Home & Garden Expo 2010 is the place to be.
